

Mario Ullrich

Johannes Kepler Universität Linz, Austria

Monte Carlo methods for numerical integration

I present recent progress on the numerical integration of multivariate functions using randomized methods. In particular, I talk about the optimal order of such methods for functions with dominating mixed smoothness, and an algorithm that achieves this order. Moreover, I present preliminary results and numerical tests of an algorithm that can be implemented very efficiently, even in high dimensions.